Fat & sassy mom wins 'Real-life Roseanne' Contest!

REAL-LIFE ROSEANNE family's having a ball. Shown above are Laura Schrier and hubby Tim, 9-year-old son T.J. and daughter Shauna, 5.

Laura Schrier is porky, bawdy, brash and can trade barbs with the best of 'em — a real-life Roseanne Barr!

The 30-year-old woman from Chicago earned the distinction by beating out 71 competitors in a lighthearted contest to find the woman who is most like the sassy actress and comedienne.

Mrs. Schrier took top honors after her family and friends confirmed that she actually "out-Roseanned" Roseanne over the past year by:

By TONY WRIGHT

- Locking her 9-year-old son T.J.'s teacher in a broom closet until the woman agreed to change the F he got in English to a C.
- Pulling her boss' pants down in front of a customer because he wouldn't give her a raise.
- Eating a traffic ticket while a police officer watched. She then took the case to court and beat it.
- Putting six fat cockroaches in her husband's birthday cake because he had forgotten their anniversary two weeks earlier.
- Telling her 5-year-old daughter Shauna's kindergarten class that Santa Claus was going to give them coal and switches for Christmas because a little boy pinched her while she was playing Santa for the class.
- Eating all her children's Halloween candy in front of them because they lied to her about doing their homework.
- Slipping a garden snake

her a necklace and ring.

"Laura was 'Roseanne' before anybody even knew that Roseanne existed," declared Tim Schrier, Laura's 32-year-old construction boss hubby, who favors Roseanne's TV husband, John Goodman, himself.

"She's smart and she's sassy and nobody gets the best of her in a conversation. We don't have the cleanest house in the world and our kids aren't always Sunday school angels.

"But I reckon we're pretty happy. We got married nine years ago and we're still together."

Mrs. Schrier is the first to admit that she and Roseanne have a lot in common but she swears it's purely a coincidence.

"When people say I'm just like Roseanne I turn it around and tell them Roseanne is just like me," said the woman, who works part-time in a doughnut shop. "I've always had a sharp tongue and I've always used

Floating outhouse

And now, for boaters who can't make it to shore in time, there's a new convenience provided by considerate officials: A giant floating commode in the middle of California's Lake Cachuma.

Called the S.S. Relief No. 74, the floating outhouse is expected to be ready by this summer, according to the California Department of Boating and Waterways. The barge — which costs $38,000 — was needed after falling water levels left behind too much dry terrain, forcing boaters to walk long distances to shore-based toilets.

Lake Cachuma is 15 miles northwest of Santa Barbara.

'FATAL ATTRACTION' SHOCKER!

Blonde bombshell blows away ex-lover's wife, say cops

HUBBY Paul Solomon

By MARTHA ATKINS
Staff writer

Love-crazed schoolteacher Carolyn Warmus had drinks and sex with her boyfriend right after she shot his wife to death, cops say, in a horrifying love triangle that mirrors the movie Fatal Attraction.

Paul Solomon, unaware of the murder, was shocked when he returned from his tryst with Miss Warmus to his Greenburgh, N.Y., apartment and found his wife's bullet-riddled body.

The heiress to an insurance fortune is accused of pumping nine shots into Betty Jeanne Solomon, 40, on Jan. 15, 1988, because she was obsessed with Betty's husband Paul and wanted him for herself.

Miss Warmus, 26, and Solomon, 40, met in September 1987 while they both taught sixth grade at the Greenville School in Greenburgh's ritzy Edgemont School District. The two became lovers and their affair continued into the following year, but it wasn't progressing as Miss Warmus had hoped, said police.

"The relationship continued until the date of the homicide, at which time Solomon ended it despite Miss Warmus' efforts to continue it," said Lt. Cornelius Sullivan of the Greenburgh Police Department.

Originally, Miss Warmus wasn't even a suspect in the killing, Solomon was. But after a year of intense legwork, detectives were able to build a case against her.

Police say they've linked the murder weapon to the one owned by Miss Warmus through ballistics evidence.

Miss Warmus allegedly followed Solomon to and from work and home and called him at all hours. And Solomon told police that Miss Warmus even followed him and ladyfriend Barbara Ballor to Puerto Rico on a vacation trip five months after the slaying.

Once there, she called someone in Ballor's family pretending to be a police officer and made derogatory remarks about Solomon, said cops.

The anguished widower has refused to comment on his ex-lover but praised the work done by police and the district attorney.

But apparently Solomon has some fear of his former lover because he's requested protection for himself and his daughter, Kristan, 15, from Miss Warmus.

She's been charged with second-degree murder and is currently out of jail on $250,000 bail. Her attorney, Charles Fiore, maintains his client is innocent and that they're working on her defense.

DEAD wife Betty Jeanne Solomon's body was found by her shocked husband when he returned from a night on the town with her alleged killer.

Driver stands on head — & beats drunk rap!

Drunk driving suspect Robert Hobbs walked out of the police station a free man after he proved he wasn't under the influence — by standing on his head!

The San Jose, Calif., carpenter, 24, was waiting for a blood alcohol test when he suddenly climbed onto an empty table in the stationhouse and stood on his head. "What are you doing?" asked astonished Officer Steven Gracie, when he noticed the bizarre pose.

"I'm making the blood go to my head so my blood alcohol will be lower," Hobbs said.

Officer Gracie decided anyone who could keep his balance upside down couldn't possibly be drunk enough to lose it right side up and let a jubilant Hobbs go free.

DOOMED PARENTS AGONIZE!

'How do we tell our little girl . . . that we're dying of AIDS?'

By JACK ALEXANDER
Staff writer

A horrible, gut-wrenching nightmare has shattered the lives of a young couple, who must soon tell their 4-year-old daughter the fateful news — they're dying of AIDS.

Mom caught deadly disease from a blood transfusion — & unknowingly gave it to dad

Tim and Lynne (last name withheld) will never see their little girl dress for her first date, graduate from high school or other wonderful things parents dream of.

The little brother they'd planned to have for daughter Elizabeth is out of the question. And they haven't been able to tell her why.

"This shoots your dreams and makes you live one day at a time," said Lynne. "For what that's worth."

Neither Tim nor Lynne contracted AIDS from drugs or cheating sexual encounters. Lynne was infected with the deadly virus through a blood transfusion during the C-section birth of Elizabeth in 1985. Tim got it through marital sex.

The couple lived in Portland, Oreg., when Lynne learned she had the dread disease. "You can't imagine what goes through your mind," she said.

The couple moved to Boca Raton, Fla., in the summer of 1988 when Tim was offered a job making $55,000 a year.

Two weeks after they settled in Florida, Tim was hospitalized with pneumonia. Doctors diagnosed what Tim had feared. The AIDS virus was in his blood.

"He could barely maintain control," said Lynne. "We have a 4-year-old kid who we hope will grow up to be a good person. But now neither of us will see it."

Unfortunately, the couple haven't been able to die in peace. Some friends don't drop by anymore. A few neighbors won't let their kids play with Elizabeth, even though she doesn't have AIDS.

Lynne is too sick to work and Tim has been fired. He says it's because they found out he has AIDS. He's suing but likely won't live long enough to see the suit through.

The heartbroken couple spend most of their waking hours with Elizabeth and wondering who will care for her when they're gone — Tim's mother or Lynne's parents.

Tim and Lynne live every day as though it's their last. They're a family without a future.

TRAGIC AIDS couple Tim and Lynne are taking life one day at a time with their 4-year-old daughter Elizabeth.

Great excuse, but it didn't work!

George West came up with a great excuse when he was pulled over for drunk driving. He said a deputy ordered him to leave the home of his estranged wife so it was the cop's fault he was driving drunk.

But the Little Rock, Ark., man lost his state appeal anyway, because the court ruled the deputy's order didn't require West to drive.

Fatsoes come in two fruity shapes — apples and pears

America's fatsoes are either apples or pears — depending where the blubber settles.

Fat settles mostly around the abdomen on apple types, according to Dr. Michael Weinstraub of the University of Rochester.

These apples have thick trunks and bulging bellies, but proportionately small hips and thighs. Pears have bottoms and thighs that are larger than the waist or trunk.

Maintaining a weight close to the ideal range for one's height and build, of course, is best for good health.

Apple types are more prone than pears to develop such health prob-

WIFE'S NAGGING LEAVES MAN STONE DEAF!

CHATTERBOX FROM HELL: Stone-faced hubby Emile Michon enjoys blissful silence as his wife Therese blasts away. Mr. Michon says his domestic troubles are over . . . he's deaf!

. . . but she just keeps on talkin'

By ROBERT CARPENTER

A loud-mouthed wife nagged her husband until he went deaf!

Doctors confirmed that 65-year-old Emile Michon is stone deaf in both ears and placed the blame squarely on Therese Michon's nagging.

In laboratory tests they determined that the sound level of the woman's speech routinely exceeds 80 decibels.

That's roughly the sound a power lawn mower makes and is more than enough to cause deafness after long term exposure, they said.

"Therese was loud when I married her 38 years ago and I'm sure she's still loud — I just can't hear her anymore," said Michon of Washington, D.C.

"When I think of all the nagging I put up with it's a relief to be deaf. She can say anything she likes and it won't bother me.

"Believe me, silence is golden when you live with a woman like Therese."

Although the couple have been married 38 years, Michon didn't go entirely deaf until January. The man said he knew that his wife's nagging was damaging his ears as early as 1980 but he didn't mind it because her harping about everything from his choice of socks to the way he combs his hair didn't seem so loud to him.

"He didn't say a word about it," said Mrs. Michon, also 65. "He just went about his business and talking to him was like talking to a post. I'd go on for 20, 25 minutes at a time and when I'd finish all he'd have to say was, 'Hush?' I should have realized he was going deaf but I didn't."

The couple's marriage has obviously been less than idyllic but both are devout Christians and won't consider divorce.

Shy boys higher drug risks

Shy teenage boys are more likely to use illegal drugs than their outgoing friends, reveals new research.

An expert studied 1,287 students in grades nine through 12 who were mostly white and lived in rural areas. They were given a personality test that measured how shy they were and questioned about their drug use. The shyest boys were most likely to use cocaine and hallucinogens than any other group, said Randy M. Page, assistant professor of health education at the University of Idaho in Moscow. As a whole, the shyest male group used cocaine more than six times as often as the least shy boys and hallucinogens more than

BLIND OLDSTER SAVES POOCH — WITH CPR!

Though in his 80s and blind, Old Joe Kerrell saved the life of his best friend — a pooch named Miss Olga — by giving her CPR!

When 83-year-old Joe discovered that Miss Olga had suffered a heart attack, he maintained the vital flow of blood to her brain by compressing her chest until a veterinarian arrived.

Dog suffered heart attack

And Joe had done such a good job with the CPR compressions that the 6-year-old Great Dane was able to walk on her own when the vet took her to his hospital!

Joe, who lives in the Florida Panhandle community of Perdido Key, found Miss Olga lying motionless on her water dish. Knowing something was dreadfully wrong with her, he sprang into action.

"I pulled her off the water dish onto the floor and just started pushing on her chest," Joe recalled. "Then I jumped up and called the doctor. By that time, she had stopped breathing."

The doctor Joe had called was Pensacola veterinarian Cliff Owen. He told the frantic old man how to perform the CPR heart compressions. Desperately, Joe pumped Miss Olga for 20 minutes before Dr. Owen arrived to take over. Heartsick Joe thought his friend was already dead.

"I was ready to cry," Joe said. "In fact, I did cry. She's my bosom buddy. She not only protects me, she helps me see."

But Joe's CPR had been carried out well. When Dr. Owen arrived, he took hold of her chain and said, "C'mon Olga. Let's go," and she got to her feet.

JOE Kerrell is delighted that Miss Olga is recovering.

THIS BEAUTY QUEEN WAS . . .

- Raped at 13
- A dope pusher at 15
- A 220-lb. slob at 21
- On welfare by 24

And she's this stunning Mrs. Michigan at 27!

By SUSAN JIMISON
Staff writer

Mary DeGiulio went from fat slob to national beauty queen and she says anyone can make their dreams come true like she did — just by following her fascinating formula for success.

Before she turned her life around, 28-year-old Mary was a former runaway who was raped at age 13 and lived on the streets, a high school dropout, a divorcee with two kids, living on welfare, and a 220-pound blob so gross no man looked at her twice.

Today the petite 5-foot-4 brunette weighs a slim and trim 113 pounds, and lives an exciting life as a model, a singer, a television talk show host and proud holder of the Mrs. Michigan International 1989 title.

UNHAPPY DAYS: Mary was a dumpy welfare mother of two.

She credits her amazing transformation to a simple motto: "There is always a distance between an ideal and reality. Don't dream it. Be it!"

"No one helped me out, but I did it and anyone can," the Allen Park, Mich., knockout told The NEWS.

She summed up her formula for success: "No matter how much of a loser you are, you can become a winner as long as you believe in yourself.

"No matter where you start, you can't give up on your dreams. You can't live with yourself if you do."

Mary says her early years were a nightmare from which she is still recovering. Her father was an alcoholic, she says, and abused her.

To compensate for her problems at home, she began eating too much — and soon became a fat girl who was teased and tormented at school.

At the age of 13, Mary was raped and by the age of 15 she had run away from home.

After living on the streets and supporting herself with petty crimes, drug selling and pickup jobs, she began working at a truck stop as a waitress. There she met a widower who married her and took her home to help raise his three kids.

"My marriage was terrible," Mary recalled. "Shortly after my 18th birthday, I gave birth to our son and tipped the scales at 220 pounds.

"I wanted to get out of my life. I didn't have a high school degree, I couldn't drive, I was tired of doing nothing but taking care of kids. I realized the only thing about my life I could control was what I put in my mouth — so I started dieting to lose weight." Mary's shapely curves soon came back. Determined to do more, she divorced her husband and went out on her own.

TODAY Mary DeGiulio has turned her life around.

She got her high school equivalency degree, met and married her second husband Tony, had a second child and slowly turned her life around. Today she owns her own beauty business and has a bright future ahead.

"I realized that the only person who could control what happened in my life was me," Mary said. "And once I began to help myself, everything changed. Now I want to help other people to make their dreams come true."

TOAD LICKER BUSTED!

MIND-BLOWING juices from South American Cane toads are just as potent as heroin, cocaine and marijuana, warn narcotics experts.

Thousands are doing it, but he's the first ever arrested, say cops

By MAX STREET
In Bogota

A Los Angeles man is awaiting trial in a Colombian jail after his arrest on the mind-blowing charge of licking hallucinogenic toads!

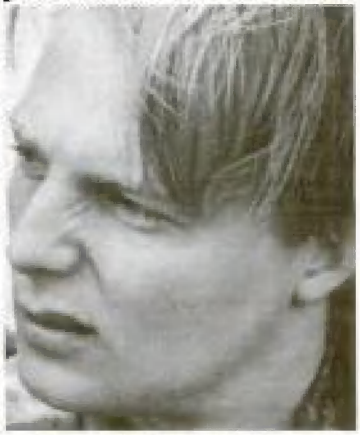
Stanton Greer, 28, allegedly traveled to the South American country to procure Cane toads, which secrete an LSD-like substance through their backs and are prized by druggies for their mind-altering properties.



Stanton Greer

Users lick the backs of the creatures to hallucinate and get high. Authorities say thousands of young people have been licking toads for kicks.

But Greer is the first to be arrested and charged with the crime.

"The substance secreted by the toads is a drug just like heroin, marijuana and cocaine," Police Detective Jorge Nunez told newmen in Bogota.

"Now we don't go out looking for toad lickers. We don't have the manpower for that. But Mr. Greer was so blatant we couldn't look the other way.

"He was sitting in the middle of a busy street hallucinating his brains out with a Cane toad in each hand."

In his statement to police, Stanton allegedly said that he jetted from L.A. to Bogota to get South American Cane toads "because they are more powerful than those in the U.S."

He went on to say that he intended to keep the toads in a suitcase but couldn't resist the temptation to try a few out before he flew back.

"The man was babbling like a lunatic when we arrested him," said Det. Nunez.

Greer faces a two-year prison term and fines up to $1,000 if convicted of using illegal hallucinogenic drugs.

Fast walking hazardous for grannies!

Fast walking is fine for elderly men but it's too stressful for older women, according to a new study.

"Elderly women tend to be more fragile than men," said Michael Pollock, director of the University of Florida's Center for Exercise Science.

60 to 79, who were tested, six of the participants were injured, and five of those were women, he said.

The researchers say the difference between the sexes is that after women go through menopause, their bones become less dense. Because of the bone loss, they're more susceptible to

HOODLUMS WANTED!

Japan's gangsters run newspaper ads to ease thug shortage

By JOE BERGER
Staff writer

Japan's labor shortage is so severe even organized crime bosses are placing help-wanted ads in newspapers — in a frantic bid to hire new hit men, robbers and racketeers!

Hundreds of unsuspecting young men have answered ads for "drivers" or "clerks," only to be offered jobs as gangster trainees.

"I walked into the office expecting to be put on a delivery truck and they gave me a job breaking people's legs," hoodlum Hideo Kubo told police after his arrest on extortion charges.

"I took the job because the pay was good and I thought it might be fun."

Unlike America's super-secret underworld, Japanese gangsters openly flaunt their mob ties — even posting gang nameplates on their office doors. That could be why 14,000 mob members are currently in the pokey and crime bosses have to advertise for help in the classifieds.

"It's very difficult to find good thugs and drug runners these days," said rackets kingpin Kenji Kuroiwa.

"It's not like it used to be when we had tough, ambitious men begging to work for us. Today everybody wants a nice job like hairstyling or home decorating or television broadcasting. Nobody wants to get their hands dirty anymore.

"That's why we have to hire people through the newspaper."

But frustrated underworld bosses admit the hoodlums they hire through the classifieds aren't always the cream of the crop.

"One skinny kid shot two of his own fingers off the first time we gave him a gun," Kuroiwa said. "Another man wanted to be an enforcer so we sent him out to collect the day's receipts from a house of prostitution.

"He came back complaining that the lady in charge hit him with an umbrella and wouldn't give him the money.

"We told the poor man to go back to driving a milk delivery truck."

Stinky air's in the bag!

Folks complaining about a foul odor from a chemical company have been given giant plastic bags with these instructions — if the air stinks, bag it.

The people have been told to fill two bags and then phone the company in Basel, Switzerland, according to the Cibo Calgy newsletter.

KATHLEEN TURNER GOES NUTS FOR SEXY LEADING MEN

SCREEN siren Kathleen Turner says working with Hollywood hunks is tough.

Tinseltown temptress Kathleen Turner says her marriage is in constant jeopardy — because she falls in love with every leading man who crosses her path!

And sassy Kathy admits her millionaire hubby Jay Weiss has thrown a fit over some of her steamier love scenes.

"It's tough working alongside some of the sexiest men in the business," says Hollywood's hottest femme fatale. "I find myself falling in love because it's so wonderful working with them."

William Hurt, Michael Douglas, Jack Nicholson and Sting — they've all lit her fire at one time or another.

But classy Kathleen says she'd never risk her marriage by having an affair with any of these hunks.

So she makes sure she's never alone with her leading man during the first 10 days of filming.

"After 10 days I'm not smitten anymore," says the sultry star of Body Heat, War of the Roses and a host of other flicks.

"Then I tell them, 'Look, I find you attractive but I'm madly in love with my husband. So let's flirt — and remember, it's just flirting.'"

. . . and hubby pitches fits!

When her unsuspecting homey wandered onto the set during the filming of Crimes of Passion and saw Anthony Perkins fondling her half-naked body, jealous Jay stomped off in a huff.

Production ground to a halt while the frantic actress chased after him and cooled him down. — London Daily Star and London People

Guys always fall for screen goddess

JACK Nicholson, Michael Douglas, Sting and William Hurt have all turned Kathleen's head at one time or another.

Prince dines on canned frosting!

Ava Gardner, but the late Ava didn't care much for some of the guys she worked with — including Paul Newman, her costar in The Life and Times of Judge Roy Bean.

"I can't stand that man," the green-eyed actress told author Lawrence Grobel. "He's one of my unfavorite actors. He's an egomaniac, and so false. He's 'on' all the time."

Two other characters Ava couldn't stomach: Kirk Douglas and John Wayne. — People

Country music megastar Randy Travis says he's still a little kid at heart — a little kid who'd love to be a cowboy.

"You know, raised on a farm and you think you are a cowboy, I just got into guns," Randy told a reporter. "I don't hunt anymore because I'm not going to dress it and eat it, so I'm not gonna shoot it. Now I just shoot targets.

"I like twirling the gun and doing fancy ways of putting it back in the holster.

"I doubt I will ever grow up." — Fort Lauderdale Sun Sentinel

Funnyguy Jay Leno says he's had offers to peddle alcohol at twice the moolah he makes pitching Doritos on TV. But the Tonight Show bench warmer says he turned the booze makers down flat.

"I don't drink and I don't sell it," Leno said. "You don't see dead teenagers on the highway with bags of Doritos scattered around them." — Miami Herald

Asking ol' Shelley Winters to read for a part in a movie is a bit like asking Joe Montana to try out for the football team. At least that's what Shelley figured when she was summoned to the casting director's lair to read for a part in the new flick Awakenings.

The indignant actress strolled into the office, plunked her ample frame into a chair and waited.

After a moment of silence, she reached into her bag, pulled out an Oscar and put it down in front of her. Moments later she produced another Oscar and plopped it down next to the first.

Then the livid lady let 'em have it. "Some people think I can act," she steamed. "Do you still want me to read for this part?"

Shelley didn't read — but she did get the job. — Fort Lauderdale Sun-Sentinel

Sweet-toothed superstar Prince hired a world-famous chef to help him around the kitchen, but the frustrated lady hit the road — when she learned the scrawny rocker is hooked on macaroni and cheese and canned cake frosting!

"He eats a lot of junk food. I have a feeling it's going to catch up with him," said fed-up chef Carmen Bonilla.

And while Prince claims to be a vegetarian, the Purple Rainman wouldn't be caught dead gnawing on a veggie, Carmen said. But he does eat fish and chicken — when he isn't dipping a finger into a can of chocolate frosting.

"He hasn't had the opportunity to develop his palate," flabbergasted Carmen told reporters.

"Basically, it was too restrictive for me as a personal chef." — Miami Herald

Is Madonna getting a little too meaty for her own good?

The '50s teen idol, discussing Ol' Blue Eyes' alleged ties to the underworld, said he met Chicago crime boss Sam Giancana at Sinatra's home several times while married to Frank's daughter Nancy.

"There is one instance where a contract was taken out on my life in Milwaukee, Wis.," Sands recalled.

Father jailed in bizarre custody battle

Dad turns boy into 'robot' to harass mom, cops say!

By JACK ALEXANDER
Staff writer

A small boy was used like a mindless robot to wage a bizarre war of silence, hunger strikes and hateful disobedience against his mother.

Accused of using his 9-year-old son to harass his estranged wife is Dale Roy Dietz, who has been charged with first-degree child abuse in Redford, Mich.

While the child seems to be "a regular pop-drinking, cookie-crunching kid," he "acts like a little robot when it comes to his mother," said Police Det. Keith Anderson.

Dietz, 43, told the youngster he must "go on a mission" against the mother — whom he called Fang — "until she learns," according to court records.

A divorce is pending between Dietz and his wife, Margo, who are in the midst of a bitter custody battle over their son, who lives with his mother. The father used daily phone conversations with his little boy to orchestrate a war of nerves against his estranged wife, cops said.

Dietz told his son not to speak to his mother, not to obey her and not to eat food she provided, according to police.

The boy was encouraged to destroy things in the home and praised for attacking his mom during a tantrum that became so violent police were called, said Det. Anderson.

The child was told to walk away when his mother spoke to him and to sleep in the basement rather than in the same part of the house with his mom, officials said.

Police at first ignored the mother's complaints as another example of a child caught in the middle of a failing marriage.

"But then I heard the tapes she made of some of the calls," said Det. Anderson. "What the father was doing was actually changing that kid's personality. It's a horror story."

Cops obtained a warrant to tape record other calls made by the father to his son, according to police. The tapes show Dietz pressuring his son to keep his mom on edge.

It is the first time the child abuse law in Michigan has been used when the child allegedly has suffered extreme deliberate mental or emotional abuse.

Dietz was ordered held in jail on $25,000 cash bond pending a preliminary examination. He could be sent to prison for 15 years.

By MARTHA ATKINS

A new fad sweeping the country is sending thousands of fun-loving oldsters racing for the beach with their surfboards so they can hang ten!

Record numbers of seniors from up and down the east and west coasts of the U.S. and Hawaii are trying surfing for the first time in their lives and loving every minute of it.

"I'd never been on a surfboard in my life but after my wife and I retired to Florida, I saw some other old guys out there so I decided to give it a whirl," said Hank Sams, who's 65.

"I couldn't believe how much fun it was to ride those waves into shore. After that I was out there every chance I got."

Another wet and wild thrill-seeker is 63-year-old Sally Marshall who lives on the big island of Hawaii.

"I never knew how much fun surfing could be," said Sally. "My kids think I'm nuts but I don't give a hoot. I'm having a blast!"

Kent Atwater of Ventura, Calif., is another surf nut.

"I'm out two to three times a week when the surf's up," said Atwater, who's a real estate agent. "If it's good, I just hang it up and go. There's nothing

Movie theaters have some nerve! They want us to PAY to watch commercials!

I almost swallowed a whole box of Milk Duds in one gulp at our local movie theater the other day when a damned car commercial popped up on the big screen!

Now I haven't been to the moving pictures in years. But as I remember, they used to show you a cartoon, a black-and-white newsreel and those action packed Coming Attractions before the feature film.

Let's face it. If I wanted to see any stupid commercials, I wouldn't have paid good money for a ticket to the movies, for Pete's sake!

All I have to do is turn on the tube in my living room any time of day or night and get one nerve-jangling sales pitch after another from some idiot trying to sell me something I don't need.

That's the reason I pitched an Elmer Fudd, foot-stomping fit until I got my eight bucks back from the theater manager and dragged Thelma Jean out of there. I really wanted to see the new Texas Chainsaw Massacre movie, too — but now I'll wait till it shows up on TV, by God.

Do those Hollyweird fat cats really think I'm dumb enough to PAY to watch nonstop commercials?

That's why I've got a snappy Ed Anger Salute for Walt Disney Studios. They have banned commercials in any theaters showing one of their movies.

"Our patrons don't dislike screen advertising — they hate it," said Disney's Richard Cook.

"We have been told repeatedly by moviegoers that they don't want and will not tolerate commercial intrusions in theaters," he said.

And that includes a pig-biting maid Yours Truly!

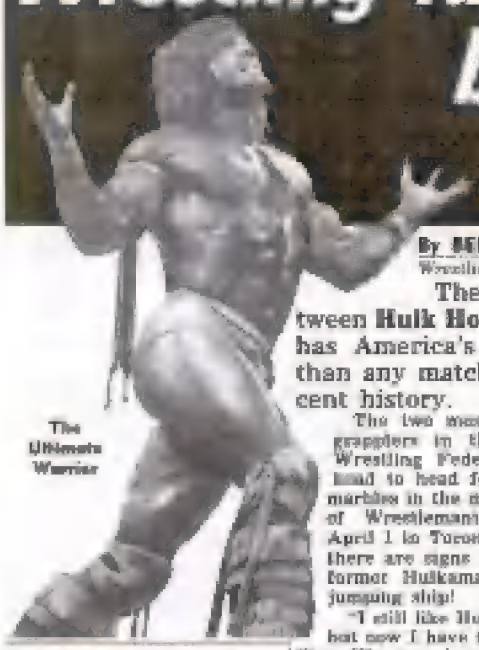
Whatever happened to the good old days when the only commercial you saw at the movies were those mouth-watering pictures of Coke and buttered popcorn at intermission?

Now they try to peddle laxatives and car mufflers instead. After seeing those idiotic messages, a laxative is the last thing I need.

The next time I pay hard-earned money to see a movie and they show a commercial, I'll pelt the screen with so much melted candy and half-full orange drinks it'll take 'em a week to clean it up!

ED'S so mad he threw an Elmer Fudd, foot-stomping fit.

Wrestling fans in a frenzy over clash between Hulk Hogan and The Ultimate Warrior!



The Ultimate Warrior

By BERNIE BASHER
Wrestling Correspondent

The championship showdown between Hulk Hogan and The Ultimate Warrior has America's wrestling fans more divided than any match in recent history.

The two most popular grapplers in the World Wrestling Federation go head to head for all the marbles in the main event of Wrestlemania VI on April 1 in Toronto — and there are signs that some former Hulkamaniacs are jumping ship!

"I still like Hulk Hogan, but now I have to root for The Warrior because he's cuter," says excited Sue Warner, 13, of Detroit.

"Most of the old folks like my mom are still going for Hulk to win, but all the young people want The Warrior to be champion."

It's clear the thought of watching these darlings of the ring tear each other apart is [illegible] I love him," said gray-haired grandma Sheila Lee. "But I don't want to see him hurt The Warrior. I just wish they didn't have to fight each other. It'll break my heart."

So which of these matinee idols will the majority of fans side with? Will they go with The Warrior, who represents a new, younger generation? Or will they stand by the Hulkster, who at 38 is three years older but is still the hero of millions? One thing is certain — it will be a war!

Ex-heavyweight champ Mike Tyson's loss in Tokyo has ended talk of a Tyson-Hogan match, and the Hulkster thinks that's good for Iron Mike. "I don't think he's a foul," Hogan said. # BETRAYED!

Police say man lost new Cadillac and $70,000 bankroll — to his best friend

Trusting Richard Stahl got the shock of his life when his best friend of more than 50 years betrayed him by cleaning out his $70,000 bank account and then stealing his new Cadillac, say cops.

Stahl, 71, was so grateful for all the help his good buddy Warren Goodnow, 70, gave him when his wife died that he arranged to leave Goodnow all his possessions when he died.

But Goodnow, who had been staying with Stahl, was too impatient to wait till his friend kicked the bucket so he took the money and the car and ran off to Florida, say cops.

"One day Stahl saw his car wasn't in the driveway, but he thought Goodnow was off doing some errands," said Capt. Walter Hennessy of the Coventry, R.I., police department.

"The first clue he had that something was wrong was when his checks started bouncing."

That's when unsuspecting Stahl knew he'd been had and contacted police.

Stahl told them how Goodnow had suggested he deposit the $70,000 left over from the sale of his home in a joint account instead of having a lawyer draw up a will. And then smooth-talking Goodnow convinced him to put the title to his Caddie in both of their names.

Police traced Goodnow to Florida and brought him back to Rhode Island but he says he was just looking after Stahl's best interests.

"He claims he really didn't steal the money but that he was keeping it for Stahl," said Capt. Hennessy. "He said he was afraid Stahl would spend it all and that he wouldn't have anything left to live on."

But Stahl isn't buying his ex-best friend's story and he's going to prosecute him.

"To say the two are no longer friends would be an understatement," said Capt. Hennessy.

"Stahl believes that he was really taken advantage of.

"He didn't even have money to buy food with. Volunteers had to make up food baskets so Stahl wouldn't go hungry. His phone and electricity were shut off."

Stahl has since got his car and $50,000 of his money back. Goodnow is charged with auto theft and larceny of $70,000 and is out on bail.

Church gives gal-chasing gramps the boot — again!

PROWLING parishioner John Steinmann, 79, gets much too close for comfort sometimes, charge angry church ladies in Washington, Conn.

'This is the best place to meet pretty ladies,' says ogling oldster

By SCOTTY PAUL
Correspondent

Wrinkled old romeo John Steinmann has been booted out of church for the second time in two years — accused of preying on the ladies instead of praying for his soul.

"He's bothering some of the women and they have complained," said the Rev. Richard Sears of the First Congregational Church of Washington, Conn.

The church got a restraining order against Steinmann, 79, two years ago banning him from attending services or harassing parishioners.

"When Mr. Steinmann comes to church, he thinks it's open season on the woman," the Rev. Sears told The NEWS two years ago.

"They try to get away from him but he won't take no for an answer. He gets so aggressive he frightens some of them."

The amorous oldster started attending services during the Christmas holidays after a judge lifted the original injunction.

"Sure, I admire the opposite sex. I'll admit that, but I wouldn't do anything disrespectful or in bad taste," Steinmann told The NEWS.

Don Juan John figures church is a fine place to get acquainted with the fair sex. "But I don't annoy anybody. I just talk to them," he said.

But one outraged lady said Steinmann grabbed her arm and made lewd remarks to her during a hymn referring to the bosom of the Lord.

One of the two women who complained about Steinmann's passion in the pews two years ago was his ex-wife, who has since moved away.

"We were married in that church 45 years ago, but the got tired of me after 39 years and wanted a divorce," said Steinmann. "I wasn't harassing her. I just missed her."

The skirt-chasing retiree admits he has a crush on one of the church ladies, who is "about half my age."

"She's divorced and has a 10-year-old son, but if she saw fit to marry me, I'd marry her tomorrow. She's a wonderful woman," Steinmann said.

"The church says I'm harassing her. One of the deacons told me to stay away from her.

"This is the best place to meet pretty ladies. Pastor Sears says the only reason I come to church is to establish personal relationships with women," said Steinmann. "Where would he suggest I go, to a bar?"

ATLANTIS TO RISE BY YEAR 2,000

FREE CONFIDENTIAL REPORT ON THE SECRETS OF LEVITATION

This report is only available to those who order OVERLORDS OF ATLANTIS & THE GREAT PYRAMID. Learn the secret of levitation, and how the Egyptians were able to move massive stones into place. Also discover how you can levitate yourself as well as others without any complicated method in a matter of a few minutes. To be used for moral purposes only.

NEWSFLASH — CHERO, EGYPT

Archaeologists working with a group of laboratory tested clairvoyants near the Great Pyramid have made a series of amazing discoveries proving that the Great Pyramid was constructed with the assistance of the High Priests of Atlantis. These "Wizards" were masters of the mystical arts and there is now sufficient evidence that their extraordinary powers — including those of levitation, invisibility and faster than light travel — were originally presented to them by the "Old Ones" who came down out of the Heavens at the very dawn of humankind. Based upon inscriptions found in previously sealed tombs, these archaeologists proclaim that a great New Age will soon sweep the planet, to be perfectly timed with the rising of the "Lost Continent" and the re-emergence of the Overlords of Atlantis who are returning to this dimension at this key pivotal point in our world's history in order to shape the future destiny of humankind.

These discoveries have proven so startling that a total news blackout has been ordered to prevent the spread of this information which would, it is felt, alter the course of history virtually overnight. Vast changes in science, religion, world relations and cultural affairs have been predicted due to the Earth shaking nature of these undisputable facts about the evolution of our planet.

IN THE BEGINNING

Where did the world originate, and what was there before the "beginning?" What was the world like before the fall of humanity and the Great Flood? Where can one still travel to see the remains of Atlantis and other lost civilizations? How did we get the division of the sexes? Who are the Children of the Law of One? What is the true story of creation of mammals and the demise of the dinosaurs?

MAN IN THE EARTH

Did an Atlantean crystal power Noah's Ark? Did a "Death Ray" once exist that was more powerful than the A bomb? Who really built the Great Pyramid? Do pyramids exist throughout the world besides Egypt? Are there still some to be uncovered around the globe?

AIRSHIPS OF ANTIQUITY

What role did aliens play in the development of humankind on Earth? What sort of advanced relationship did the scientists of Atlantis have with the star people? Was air travel common in ancient Egypt around the time the pyramids were built? Did ETs help put the massive stones into place? Does a secret chamber still exist to this day beneath the sphynx that houses an authentic space ship from another world? Will the Atlanteans and the Space Brothers soon walk the Earth

CYCLES OF REBIRTH

Is America to be the New Atlantis? Are there some people living today who once existed on the Lost Continent? What is our "karmic tie" to this fabulous super civilization? Is it true that many world leaders have known the truth but have remained silent? What is the exact date Atlantis will rise? Does an "evil" warring race exist beneath the Earth's crust determined to conquer the entire planet? Is the Great Pyramid a repository of a Universal system of prophecy that we can learn to uncode, and what is the significance of these prophecies in our lives?

PREHISTORIC WORLD-TOUR

Did the Earth tilt on its axis once ago? What became of those who lived on Atlantis and other lost continents? What dire warnings have we been given, but neglected to listen to? Could such a worldwide catastrophe happen again, and will Armageddon occur when Atlantis once again rises from the depths of the sea around the year 2,000?

MYSTERY OF THE SARGASSO SEA

What is behind the mysterious ocean collisions with Unidentified Underwater Objects? Where have all our vanished seamen gone? Does the remains of Atlantis exist inside the Bermuda Triangle? What is "swallowing" up our tugboats, yachts and airplanes? Who are the unknown Aquanauts? Are there Cosmic Teachers in underwater bases? What causes the phenomena of the "Siren Song" of the Atlanteans, unknown tracks on sea beds, and boiling ocean water?

We're too classy for our hick town

Dear Dotti: Our lives are cruel, pathetic jokes. We live in a hick town in Canada where people dress in polyester plaid and hunting caps. We are much too refined and fashion conscious to be exposed to this sort of environment. To make matters worse, people don't accept us for our high aspirations and tastes. ## My hubby wants to spank our kids

Dear Dotti: My husband thinks you're the greatest when it comes to disciplining bratty teens because you advocate spanking — even for high school kids. In fact, he marched home with a Ping-Pong paddle and announced to our two girls that if they don't toe the line, they're going to be soundly spanked.

I know the Bible says "Spare the rod, spoil the child," but I don't buy it. Spankings are humiliating, painful and abusive and only make kids work harder to keep from getting caught when they break the rules.

Dotti, I'll bet dollars to doughnuts that you never got a spanking in your life. And if you have kids, I'll bet you don't spank them, either. Grounding and taking away allowances are better forms of discipline.

Comments, please. — 1990 Parent in N.J.

Is this just an image that these guys create to sell records? Are they doing it because they have inferiority complexes?

I'd appreciate your opinion. — Wondering in Medicine Hat

Dear Wondering: Rock stars are like car salesmen — they'll do anything to get you to buy the crap they're selling. I know for a fact that half these guys are wimps and the rest are sissies. Most of them wouldn't know what to do with the opposite sex if you gave them a manual and lessons!

Please don't ever turn soft, Dotti

PROF. Simon Hernandez

Crackpot scientist's biza

THIS IS A BIG

By JOE BERGER
Staff writer

Eccentric scientist Simon Hernandez claims he's discovered the world's most bizarre Bigfoot — a colossal creature that lays giant, speckled eggs!

"I have a photo of the Bigfoot and a nest of Bigfoot eggs, and I intend to produce it when the time is right," the excited explorer told an anthropology conference in Sao Paulo, Brazil.

"I have evidence that will redefine our thinking about these amazing animals for all time."

But shocked colleagues are convinced Dr. Hernandez's 20-year quest for Bigfoot has turned the once-renowned college professor into a raging lunatic. "I'm afraid poor Simon has lost his marbles," said Australian anthropologist Rodney York. "He's a brilliant man, but he's become so obsessed with finding the Bigfoot that he must be imagining things.

"Those of us who believe in Bigfoot feel certain it's a mammal. And we all know that, aside from the duck-billed platypus, mammals don't lay eggs."

But the peabrained prof insists he and a party of Peruvian Indians located what may be an entire tribe of huge, hairy, egg-laying apes high in the Eastern range of the Andes Mountains.

"We saw only two of them ourselves, a seven-foot female and a male that was at least eight feet tall," the shaggy-haired Dr. Hernandez told the conference. "But there was clear evidence that at least 25 of the creatures live in the general region."

The wide-eyed explorer said he and his aides had been following what they thought were Bigfoot tracks for more than two days when they came across the female sitting on three spotted eggs the size of watermelons.

"She got up and charged us, screaming at the top of her lungs," Dr. Hernandez said. "And then the male came at us with fire in his eyes.

"If they had wanted to kill us, there'd have been no escape. But fortunately, they retreated to guard over their eggs.

"When we got back to camp, I was delighted to discover that a member of our party had actually captured the mama Bigfoot — and her eggs — on film."

Now the screwball scientist is packing for another trip into the Andes, where he hopes to film a baby Bigfoot breaking out of its shell.

"It's going to be the cutest thing you ever saw," the prof predicted. "It'll be about a foot tall, with big brown eyes and fur from head to toe."

Dr. Hernandez vowed to show his entire collection of photos to the world sometime soon, but many of his colleagues left the meeting convinced the doc is a dingbat.

Mom's 9 kids all under 8!

Homemaker Sue Swick gave birth to a girl and then a boy, then triplets — and then quadruplets!

Now a mother of nine kids all under the age of eight, the Winona Lake, Ind., mom is keeping very busy. But she says having such a big brood is more fun than work for her and her husband, Tom.

"When people ask us why we have so many children, I keep saying, 'Why not?' " said Sue, 30. "We started having kids and liked it. After the triplets, we wondered 'Are we done?' and decided we wanted two more."

When four more arrived instead, the Swicks settled down to a hectic routine of child care. Mom Sue does two loads of laundry a day and changes dozens of diapers. She wipes the noses of little Andrew, Alex, Tara and Carly — all one year old — and dries the tears of triplets Micah, Isaac and Kyla, all 4.

With the help of Erin, 8, and Ben, 6, she feeds, bathes and plays with the smaller children. And through it all, she manages to keep the peace.

"We don't allow screaming and fighting," said Sue. "We're family. We love each other and we're working at liking each other.

"Sometimes I wish people could come and see that it's not total chaos. This is a lot of fun."

Incredibly, the Swicks are having such a great time with their houseful of kids that they haven't even made up their minds yet whether nine is enough.

"We're not opposed to having more," said Sue, "but we're not planning on it either. But it definitely wouldn't be the end of the world if we had more kids, that's for sure."

No Prescription Necessary To Obtain Extraordinary Anti-Aging Skin Creme.

Can be used by adults who want to prevent wrinkles and look younger.

NEW YORK, NY—There is now a powerfully effective, special skin creme for people with aging skin. Released under the name of AV/22 Anti-Aging Creme,™ this is the advanced formula adults prone to wrinkles have been waiting for.

The special system contained in the AV/22 Creme has extraordinary ingredients that protect the skin (filtering out 98% of specific skin-damaging elements) and that decelerate the aging of the face and neck.

Leading dermatologists have agreed that the majority of wrinkles are caused by this kind of skin damage—which the AV/22 Creme protects its users against.

How wonder-working benefits are achieved

AV/22 Creme works against skin aging by shielding the "epidermis" and under-layer of skin from the most common causes of wrinkles, sags, lines, and skin damage associated with premature aging.

As you would expect, the AV/22 Anti-Aging Creme also includes Retinol (Vitamin A) in full strength. This is the same Retinol (Vitamin A) now being used by thousands upon thousands of adults to help lessen visible signs of facial aging.

Other age-fighting ingredients in the AV/22 Creme include Elastin—known to firm up tissues and help prevent fine lines and wrinkles . . . Collagen—the moisture-building agent that gives the face a healthier-looking appearance by improving the skin's elasticity . . . Vitamin E—the noted rejuvenating element that utilizes oxygen to nourish the skin . . . and Aloe—the skin-healing plant substance that helps create soft, young skin.

As potently effective as the AV/22 Creme is, it is safe to use and can be ordered without a prescription. One of America's leading beauty experts has predicted that "within the next 2 or 3 years, millions of women will be using the AV/22 Anti-Aging Cream to take care of their wrinkle problems—finally."

If you are concerned about your wrinkle problems, and the way your face is aging, you should use AV/22 Anti-Aging Creme at once.

Expect quick results

Once you begin using AV/22 Anti-Aging Creme, don't be surprised if you see a noticeable improvement in your facial age appearance within a few days. However, if for any reason you don't find the AV/22 Anti-Aging Creme the most effective skin cream you have ever used, you receive your money back. (No questions asked.)

REMOTE-CONTROL WIFE

By LAWRENCE MATHERS
Correspondent

John Wallace hypnotized his wife and programmed her mind so he can turn her on and off with a television remote control!

The man's experiment sounds farfetched but it is rooted in hard scientific fact. Remote controls emit radio signals that cannot be heard by the human ear but are picked up and recognized by the brain.

When Wallace put wife Kathy in a trance six weeks ago he commanded her to respond to the signal. Now when he turns her on she appears to be in full command of her senses and behaves normally.

But when he's tired of her company and turns her off she freezes until he turns her on again.

"Thanks to the twin miracles of hypnotism and electronics Kathy is the ultimate wife," Wallace, of Sacramento, told a hypnotism seminar in California.

"She's at my beck and call 24 hours a day," he continued. "If I want her around, I push a button. If I want her to lay low, I do the same.

"It's so easy I don't know why I didn't think of this before. It's a great way to keep a marriage happy."

The ethics of what Wallace has done are debatable but he claims there's nothing wrong with having a remote-control wife.

He pointed out that nobody can be hypnotized against their will. He also noted that hypnotized people won't do anything in a trance that they wouldn't do anyway.

"Kathy obviously likes it, too," said Wallace. "If she didn't, she wouldn't respond to the remote control.

"She'd tell me to bug off and do as she pleased."

At the seminar, Wallace turned his wife off in mid-sentence as she was giving a speech.

When he turned her back on 20 minutes later she picked up where she left off without missing a beat.

"I'll continue my little experiment as long as Kathy and I are comfortable with it," said Wallace.

How to keep kids from wrecking your marriage

By CARL MEKLO
Correspondent

Your kids can wreck your marriage if you let them — but you can prevent that from happening by following six tips, says top child psychiatrist Dr. Jaime Quintanilla.

"Children are frequently the underlying cause of a marital split. If you want your marriage to survive, it is best to be aware of all the ways they can undermine the relationship of a husband and wife," said the expert. Dr. Quintanilla offers NEWS readers these simple tips:

1. Don't make your kids' problems your problems.

"Once your children reach school age, give them the freedom to suffer a little.

"Let them have fights with friends without your rushing to settle the disputes. Let them squander allowance money or get a bad grade on a test when they're unprepared. Let them handle their own difficulties.

"They will then learn how to be more resourceful, and you will then be free to concentrate on ways of making life happier for you and your mate."

2. Don't encourage your kids to make you their "favorite" parent.

"That's a sure step toward turning your household into an armed camp, with you and your mate at odds with each other.

"The less favored parent inevitably suffers feelings of rejection and hostility."

3. Never hold your mate responsible for something that goes wrong with your child's life.

"When children fail to live up to expectations, it's tempting to blame your mate for having somehow 'failed' as a parent. Once you do this, your marriage is in danger.

"No one can live comfortably with the accusation of being responsible for your child's failures."

4. Don't make the happiness of your children your top priority.

"When you over-sacrifice 'to make the children happy,' you're denying yourself and your mate too much.

"Many a marriage has been wrecked by spending too much to provide a life-style for the kids that's more lavish than the parents could afford.

"Consider your own happiness — as well as your children's — before making any major decisions."

5. Set aside a "couple's hour" just for you and your mate.

"When all thoughts, ideas and conversation focus on the kids, the marriage relationship becomes less satisfying.

"During this hour together, you and your mate should devote full attention to each other."

6. Don't allow child-rearing to become a "his" or "hers" job.

"A child needs two parents. Both husband and wife must be equally involved with the children's upbringing for the couple to get full satisfaction out of this shared enterprise."

"I 'Retired Early'...

THEN MADE $27,000 PART-TIME IN A BUSINESS OF MY OWN"

"$27,000 Part-time isn't bad for a guy who quit his job. I 'retired early' from the insurance and securities business, now make good money part-time with Pace, and have as much work as I care to handle." A true story by a very happy Pace distributor.

44 I'm still amazed how things have changed for me since I became a Pace distributor. Let me tell you how it all started...

"When the national economy wasn't going too well, I decided to get out of the business I was in. I had given some thought to retiring, but was really too young for that. Well, it so happened my own commercial building had a leaky roof. Roofing contractor prices were literally sky high! Then I remembered an article about Pace Products and how with their exclusive Seamless Spray process you could actually bypass high priced contractors. I sent for their literature, saw how easy it was to sell, and I wound up doing the roof myself using Pace products and know how.

"Well, word got around about how much money I had saved and that opened a whole new world of opportunity. Ever since then I've been like a cat on a hot tin roof! The first year I did 15 roof jobs. Almost double that the second year, and had a huge backlog. Most of these were big jobs like the county house, the Chevy-Buick garage, bank buildings, city hall. Big jobs mean big money!

"The business I used to be in had been pretty good to me, but I really had to work both nights and days. With Pace, business just seems to fall into your lap. I don't really do any promoting or 'selling'... most of my work come from referrals, and my phone's ringing all the time.

"What I like to tell people is that Pace offers a free money opportunity. You can start working as little as two hours a week and then go full time when your income exceeds your regular job."

What our successful Pace distributor is too modest to say is that he actually did over $100,000 worth of roofing business last year, in spite of living in a depressed farming area! And that's working less than half of the year, leaving the rest of the time for his family and other interests.

What makes Pace such a good business is that it costs a fortune for schools, hospitals, plants and other commercial buildings to have roofing companies repair or re-do their roofs. Pace bypasses the roofer – lets the building owner apply Pace Seamless Spray right over the old roof ... and the smallest Seamless Spray order earns you over $1,550 in commissions.

Pace ships the Seamless Spray equipment on Free Loan. Your customer pays only for the roofing products. His own men apply it (or if you want to make even more money, you can handle the application, too). It's as simple as that.

No Investment!

You too, can enjoy the same success. Best of all, you don't have to invest a penny. You don't need any special background or experience. Of course, if you have selling, construction or application experience, you'll benefit even more so.

Pace is a proven winner. That's why it is used by such well-known firms as General Motors, American Airlines, Holiday Inns and thousands more.

Be Your Own Boss!

You'll like being your own boss and running a successful business. You can set your own hours, tear off whenever you feel like it, make your own decisions and stop taking orders from somebody else.

You can start out earning extra income part-time (with the option of going full time anytime you wish)... or go right into it full-in! Pace offers this kind of flexibility. There is no waiting, either. You can start making money from your very first day. You get your big commissions up front. Paid in advance, weekly!

TEACHER'S CORPSE DUG UP

— to lift death curse on students whose pictures were buried with her!

By JACK ALEXANDER
Staff writer

A teacher's corpse was exhumed from the grave to remove a terrifying curse that would have brought pain, suffering and early death to her young students.

The Hmong believe the children's spirits — captured by photos in the coffin — would follow the teacher's spirit into the land of the dead.

"If you are still alive but your picture, hair or some other thing from the body is buried, it causes your spirit to leave your body. You are more likely to get sick," said Seng Vang of the Lao Family Community in St. Paul, Minn.

The students' pictures were on a huge get-well card sent to Mrs. Bell, 61, when she was hospitalized with pneumonia earlier. Her health deteriorated and she died January 1.

As a simple, sentimental gesture, her family innocently put the card in her casket before she was buried in Minneapolis.

"If the parents had known, they would have refused to let the pictures be buried with the teacher," said Nkaglo Vangh, president of the Lao Family Community. "I know they liked the teacher, but that is something that cannot be done."

The parents felt that their children would be cursed with bad luck, illness and early death unless the photographs were removed from the grave.

Mrs. Bell's son was contacted by Ramsey County Head Start director Angela Mann and he agreed to allow the body to be exhumed. The $700 cost was raised by Head Start from private donations.

Officials from the Lao Family Community then performed a soul-calling ceremony using eggs and incense to lure the children's spirits out of the grave along with the photographs.

The families must now conduct their own spirit-calling ceremony to draw their children's spirits back into their children's bodies.

Some families may hire Hmong religious leaders to perform a ceremony that requires live animal sacrifice, using the dead animal's soul to guide the children's spirits home, said Vangh.

Baby born with tooth!

Dentist's daughter Hanna Hutchison came into the world with a little something extra for her daddy: She was born with a tiny, shiny white tooth in her mouth!

. . . and her dentist dad is pleased as punch!

HAPPY parents Sarah and Douglas Hutchison with their baby Hanna.

LITTLE Hanna is already using her tooth to chew her food.

The adorable Des Moines, Iowa, baby is one of only a handful of children born each year with teeth already fully formed. No one knows why it happens, but it's not a worry, Hanna's father said.

"I looked at it and said, 'That's a tooth,'" recalled proud father Douglas Hutchison. "It's pretty rare, but I have a sister who was born with the same tooth — a lower incisor. It's very unusual — but it's not unusual in our family, so I was not totally surprised."

Dad may not have been surprised, but everybody else was. There was such an uproar when tiny Hanna cried and revealed her single chopper that hospital personnel got confused. They mistakenly billed the Hutchison family for $580.66 for special charges related to the tooth.

"On our hospital bill there was an item for a dental claim, but nothing was done with Hanna's tooth," Dr. Hutchison said. "Sure, they looked at her tooth — everybody was looking at the tooth. But I was the one that examined it.

"They took my word for it that it was a tooth."

Dr. Hutchison said the bill was eventually straightened out and he was given a refund. The mix-up didn't phase happy Hanna, he said.

"She's a very happy baby who is concerned mainly about where her next meal is coming from," he told The NEWS.

Oldsters get the heave-ho in Japan!

Japan's elderly often get booted out in the cold because their families think they're old and ugly!

By SCOTTY PAUL

An 80-year-old woman recently was rescued from the yard of a Tokyo shrine after being banished by her family because of her age. Her plight is a vivid example of how the busy and overcrowded nation of Japan is dealing with a growing population of old people who are unwanted by their families.

There were several cases in Japan last year where old people, unable to cope anymore, killed their spouse and committed suicide.

Japan has always prided itself on respect for the old, who were cared for by their families and not shunted into homes.

That's why government officials have neglected the problem.

They took it for granted children would look after their old or sick parents.

What men REALLY think about women

What do men really think about women? When are men most susceptible to womanly charms? Do men discuss women often? The answers may surprise you!

Psychologists have been hard at work exploring men's relationship with the fair sex — and here's what they've found:

Q. At what age are men most susceptible to women's romantic charms?

A. Men are most vulnerable during two periods in their lives, studies show. A male's first and most vulnerable time is between age 20 and 25. After his 25th birthday, his susceptibility to women tends to lessen gradually with each year.

Then when he reaches 40, something happens to his resistance and for the next few years he's more vulnerable to a woman's wiles than at any other time, except during his early 20s.

Q. From a man's viewpoint, at what age is a woman most attractive?

A. Surveys show that most men think girls between 20 and 25 led the field in good looks and charm. A lesser percentage think women have the most appeal in their late teens.

Q. What do men dislike most about their wives?

A. Crossness and irritability. Five other traits which husbands found most exasperating were:

1. Being too fussy and overcritical. 2. Talking too much and spending too much time gossiping. 3. Spending too much money. 4. Being selfish and inconsiderate. 5. Drinking and smoking too much.

Q. Are women men's favorite topic of conversation?

A. No way. Men actually talk about women far less than women think they do, according to investigators who listened in on the conversations of hundreds of men of all ages and occupations.

They found the No. 1 topic of conversation among men was business. Money ran a close second. Those two subjects led all the rest by a wide margin.

Talk about other males ranked a poor third. And talk about women trailed along after that — followed closely by talk about amusements and sports.

Q. How does a man describe his ideal wife?

A. In terms of their most frequent choices, the ideal wife is 5 feet 5 inches tall, weighs about 124 pounds, does not wear glasses, has a good figure and sex appeal.

She must be courageous, helpful, able to meet people and truthful at all times. Also, she must not be domineering.

Q. How do men feel about women taking the lead in romance?

A. Contrary to what most women think, most men like the idea. A national survey in Britain showed that 49 percent of men think it's fine if the woman does the actual proposing, while 39 percent are against it.

The rest wouldn't commit themselves.

WITHOUT DIETING!"

GUARANTEED TO WORK FOR YOU TOO... OR YOUR MONEY BACK!

DIET DISCOVERY ASTOUNDS SCIENTIFIC COMMUNITY!

In what is being acclaimed a "major breakthrough," a group of European scientists have recently discovered a powerful new weight-loss formula that causes rapid weight loss without conventional dieting or exercise. The discovery was made while researchers at the University of Kuopio, in Finland, were searching for a compound to lower cholesterol. In a test group of people who took the formula, cholesterol levels remained unchanged but doctors were astounded to find that every patient had lost a significant amount of weight!

ACTUALLY SUPPRESSES ABSORPTION OF CALORIES!

Medical researchers quickly discovered that this new formula actually alters the way your body digests food. When taken before mealtime it bonds with the food you eat and "ties up" calories, especially those from fats, preventing their absorption.

So a significant portion of the ingested calories pass through and out of the digestive system unabsorbed. Your body must burn stored fat to replace those lost (undigested) calories.

CLINICALLY TESTED

Further medical tests of the new formula have been made at another prestigious European University. Results published in the BRITISH JOURNAL OF NUTRITION stated: "Body weight was significantly reduced during the study even though the patients were specifically asked not to alter their dietary habits." This new compound is so powerful, so effective and so relentless in its attack on bulging deposits of fatty tissue that it has virtually eliminated the need for the most dieting and strenuous exercise methods.

Wisconsin man gets bizarre sentence after fatal accident

Judge orders drunk driver to visit the grave of man he killed!

By DICK DONOVAN
Staff writer

Convicted drunk driver Ron McDonnell won't soon forget the man he killed in a grinding crash — he has been sentenced to visit his victim's grave every year for nine years!

Circuit Court Judge Gary Schlosstein also sentenced McDonnell to a nine-year schedule of personal visits to two surviving victims — one of them permanently disabled, the other one vegetating in a coma.

The visits are to be made on or about the anniversary date of the dark day when McDonnell drove his truck away from a rural bar near Arkansaw, Wis., "floated" past a stop sign and slammed into a car.

DAD-OF-TWO Bernie Chudyk was killed when McDonnell's truck ran a stop sign and slammed into his car.

The shattering collision killed 43-year-old father-of-two Bernie Chudyk.

The driver, 34-year-old Steve Sievwright, and another passenger, Roger Prissel, 36, were severely injured.

McDonnell, the manager of a beer warehouse, pleaded no contest to one count of homicide by intoxicated use of a motor vehicle, and two counts of causing great bodily harm.

Pepin County Judge Schlosstein could have sentenced McDonnell to prison, but instead handed him a nine-year term of probation that carried a few novel requirements:

● He must make a pilgrimage to the grave of his victim every year for the next nine years!

● He must make personal visits to Sievwright and Prissel annually over the next nine years!

● He must perform eight hours of community service every week, preferably work in cemetery care!

● He must take courses in emergency health care and volunteer his services to help accident victims!

In addition, McDonnell must stay sober and attend counseling sessions for alcoholics.

If he violates any of the provisions of his probation, he could find himself tossed into prison.

"I think it's a good sentence," Chudyk's widow, Elaine, told The NEWS.

"At first, I wanted a prison sentence. But now I think he'll get more out of it.

"Maybe it will help make him a better person."

CONVICTED drunk driver and manager of a beer warehouse, Ron McDonnell has to make yearly visits to two surviving victims as well as to the grave of the man he killed.

Baby stuck in tub drain

Rescuers struggled for two hours to free infant Craig Hall — after his thumb was sucked into the sink drain hole where he was being bathed!

Sleep late — it's good for you!

You can do better at your job, drive more safely and sharpen your mind — just by getting one more hour of sleep at night.

According to a new study published in the journal Sleep, sleep a night outperforms people who get only eight.

The study, conducted by Dr. Timothy Roehrs of Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit, indicates that sleeping until you're slept out is the best way to maximize alertness.

ting as much sleep as they can," said the psychologist.

Dr. Roehrs' work proved that sleeping more does not lead to sluggishness as once believed.

Only 27% are, but . . .

78% of women think they're fat!

Most women see themselves as fat and that turns some of them off sex, says a new survey in Family Circle magazine.

Of 900 women polled by the magazine, 78 percent felt they were overweight. Actually, only 27 percent of the women in the U.S. are overweight.

Almost one in four women say feeling fat has occasionally made them say "no" to sex. And 38 percent are reluctant to wear swimsuits.

"The aesthetic ideal is unrealistically slim," says obesity researcher Kelly Brownell of the University of Pennsylvania. "People aspire to a body shape and size that is beyond where they need to be healthy."

A woman who weighs 130 pounds when height/weight tables say she should weigh 120 could probably lose 10 pounds. "But for her to look like her aesthetic ideal she might think she has to go down to 105 or 110 — and that pushes her body too far," says Brownell.

Almost half the women aren't pleased with their hips or rear end. Three out of four women diet.

Doghouse has fireplace, garden, deck and pool!

Puppy palace cost $15,000

WEALTHY Richard Ziegler with his pampered pooches.

Yuppie puppies Crissy and J.R. live in the world's poshest doghouse, a canine castle complete with redwood cathedral ceilings, a stone fireplace, Italian tile flooring — and their own kidney-shaped swimming pool!

The palatial pad also has fancy brass fixtures, a terra cotta chimney, a patio deck, a rock garden, double windows and a heater to ward off the winter cold.

Big-bucks businessman Richard Ziegler spent a whopping $15,000 building the doggie dream house for Crissy his German shepherd and J.R. the Doberman pinscher.

The pampered poochers' palace is a miniature version of Ziegler's own $3.5 million mansion in Great Falls, Va.

"Dogs have a right to be comfortable, too," said the self-made millionaire.

And to make sure his pups' pals are comfy, Ziegler plans to build a swanky guest cottage behind the main doghouse for Crissy and J.R.'s overnight visitors.

But despite the time, money and attention their master has lavished on their doggie digs, the pernickety pups aren't always content to stay in their own home.

"They'd rather be in the house with me," Ziegler says. "They sleep on their own bed right in the master bedroom. I guess they figure that's really living."

Owl causes car wreck

A Good Samaritan got more than he bargained for when he tried to help an injured owl and ended up with a demolished car and a hefty hospital bill for his trouble!

William Arnold was driving the large owl to a veterinarian when it flew into his face, causing him to lose control of his car and crash.

The Bay St. Louis, Miss., man suffered no serious injuries in the accident, but his face "looks like I slid into home plate," said Arnold, 27.

Unfortunately, the owl died about an hour after it was taken to a vet and treated.

"I gave him hell, don't think I didn't," said Suzuki, the angry wife of bookkeeper Shoso Osawa.

Osawa had spent the evening with friends at a private club in the Ginza section of Tokyo, Japan. "I was walking to my car when these screaming women surrounded me and forced me into an abandoned building," Osawa told police.

The sex-crazed girlies ripped off his trousers and kissed him all over, including some embarrassing places, said the trembling hubby.

Most folks die from preventable diseases

Most Americans will die from nine chronic illnesses, all of which are preventable!

The diseases account for 53 percent of fatalities in this country, according to the National Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta, yet only got 3 percent of states' public health dollars. They caused 1.1 million deaths in 1988, broken down as follows:

- Heart disease, 593,000
- Stroke, 148,000
- Lung cancer, 125,000
- Obstructive lung disease such as emphysema, 71,000
- Colorectal cancer, 55,000
- Breast cancer, 40,000
- Diabetes, 37,000
- Cirrhosis, 26,000
- Cervical cancer, 4,500

If people avoided risk factors like cigarette smoking, overweight, high blood pressure, drinking and lack of exercise, many of these deaths could be prevented, experts say.

'Biting Bandit' is armed to the teeth

Florida vampire chomps off ears and fingers!

By MARTHA ATKINS
Staff writer

Cops believe they've finally nabbed the man they'd dubbed the "Biting Bandit" — a modern-day vampire who used his teeth as a weapon so he could rob his helpless victims!

Police allege that Robert Joe Lester, 27, is the man responsible for attacking and biting at least 12 men in Homestead, Fla., since last December.

"This guy was using his teeth as his weapon," said Capt. Al Rolle of the Homestead Police Department. "He would attack people on the street to rob them, and if they struggled he'd just bite them until they gave up.

"He bit one guy's ear off, almost bit off another fellow's ear and even bit the first joint of one man's finger completely off."

FIEND'S powerful teeth have taken chunks out of victims' arms and faces.

Victims of the Biting Bandit have also lost chunks of their face, hands and shoulders besides their money and watches.

Cops were able to catch Lester thanks to the help of the latest Biting Bandit victim, Jesus Torres, 29, who was bitten twice on the back.

After the attack on Torres, Lester knocked on his door one day trying to sell him something, say police.

"When Torres opened the door, he and Lester recognized each other and Lester took off running," said Capt. Rolle. "Torres chased him but lost him."

Later on, he saw Lester again and notified police and they went with Torres to find him but he was gone again.

But as police were taking Torres home, he spied Lester walking down the street and hollered, "There's the guy that bit me," said Capt. Rolle.

Lester was arrested and police got a court order to allow them to take a wax impression of his mouth so they could compare it with the bite marks on Torres' back.

"We're 95 percent sure this guy is the one," said Capt. Rolle.

Lester is charged with strong-arm robbery and aggravated battery.

WIPEOUT!

Two Americans who crashed through an anti-drug roadblock in northern Mexico were arrested when cops found 220 pounds of marijuana stashed in their surfboards!

Anti-narcotics agents shot out the tires of the car occupied by John Bradley, 32, of Houston, Tex., and Joseph Brandall Evans, 30, of Encinitas, Calif., as it roared past them.

The auto crashed into a wall but neither of the men were injured.

$1 million blaze began in a bathtub

A million-dollar fire that destroyed a small shopping center began in a bathtub.

A woman in an upstairs apartment was so angry with her boyfriend she tossed seven pairs of his pants in the tub and set them afire, said cops in Strongsville, Ohio.

The woman, Dayna Roberts, degree burns to her arms, hands and face. She was charged with criminal endangerment.

Her apartment was in a building which housed four businesses and five other second-floor apartments. All were destroyed in the fire.

Lady Luck has really smiled on an Indiana family — in one weekend they struck the lottery twice!

James Janke of Michigan City won a trip for two to Hawaii in the televised Hoosier Lottery drawing. Then his daughter Lori won $25,000 in the Hoosier Hoops scratch-off game.

"I went nuts when it happened to me, and then to happen to my daughter in the same weekend is fantastic," said Janke.

Dying kids' visions proof of life after death, says doctor

By SUSAN JIMISON

"The angels — they're so beautiful! Mommy, can you see them? Do you hear their singing? I've never heard such beautiful singing!"

Those last joyous words of a dying 7-year-old leukemia victim provide powerful proof that there is life after death — and they're not unusual, according to a cancer doctor.

Dr. Diane Komp, a New Haven, Conn., baby doctor, says she's seen hundreds of children die. And so many of her young patients meet their Maker with joy and relief that she has become convinced that they see heaven before they die and welcome it.

"The child's parents reacted as if they had been given the most precious gift in the world," said Dr. Komp, recalling the little leukemia girl.

"My young patients meet their Maker with joy and relief . . . I'm convinced they see heaven."

— Dr. Diane Komp, Pediatrician

"And it's changed my life.

"Dying children go to a peaceful and happy place. The sense of serenity is one of the things that convinced me there is another existence after we die."

The pediatrician says she used to fear death and went to the bedside of a dying child only out of a sense of duty. But now she faces the end of a child's suffering with a sense of anticipation. Her small patients die calmly and happily. And many of them speak of dreams or visions which make them look forward to death.

"One little patient, Mary Beth, was 6 years old when she was diagnosed with cancer," recalled Dr. Komp, who practices at Yale University School of Medicine in New Haven.

"Because she was so little, her parents didn't want her to know she was dying. Her favorite nurse bought her a red velvet dress for Christmas but she refused to wear the dress and would not explain why.

"Her mother told me of a dream the child reported. Jesus came to her in that dream with a grandfather who died before she was born. Together, they told her she would die and not to be afraid.

"She woke with peace and reassurance that she soon would be with Jesus and her grandfather. The little girl died at home on Christmas Eve and was dressed in her red velvet dress when her brief life was finally celebrated."

Dr. Komp believes that the experiences of dying children are especially important because adults pay attention to them.

"People are so paralyzed themselves in terms of accepting a child's death that they will listen to a child," she said.

"Death brings peace for the child and the sense that God cares for that child. Through the peace these children feel, I think we, too, can receive a sense of peace."

Teen held captive in Burger King bathroom

A teenage boy claims he was locked in a Burger King bathroom by a female employee who was trying to force him to buy something.

. . . because he wouldn't buy fries!

Tom Dunahoo, 18, said he was released from the rest room after hollering and pounding on the door for about 10 minutes.

Dunahoo and a friend were at the drive-through window of the fast-food chain in Valparaise, Ind., when he decided to go inside. "I went into the bathroom and I heard 'click,' " he said. "There was another kid in there. He said they do it all the time."

A woman who later unlocked the door told him the bathroom was for paying customers only, according to Dunahoo.

"The employee was yelling, 'Get back in here and buy something,' " said Dunahoo.

The incident was the result of a mistake and a misunderstanding, according to a Burger King official. He said the restaurant's policy of locking the bathroom door after 9 p.m. is faulty. Employees at the restaurant weren't aware the youths were in the rest room when they locked the door, said spokesman Michael Evans.

It is not Burger King policy that only paying customers are allowed to use the rest rooms, said Evans.

HOW TO HUG . . . the one you love

Knowing how to hug your loved one can breathe new life into a stale relationship, experts say.

By OSCAR BORSEN

"The right kind of hug can convey messages words can never express," says Dr. Fredrick Koenig.

There are the five basic hugs, according to the experts:

Reassurance Hug

Use this when you want to comfort your loved one. Stand by the person's side, then, with one arm around the person's shoulder, pull him to you tightly and protectively.

Welcome Home Hug

"It demonstrates excitement and enthusiasm," said Dr. Koenig. "It's usually a simultaneous hug on the parts of both participants."

Psychiatrist Dr. Frank Caprio explained: "This is an open-armed hug. You rush up and fold the other person into you. It expresses gladness."

Affectionate Hug

"This is the 'I love you, I'm glad to be with you' hug," said Dr. Koenig. "You put both arms around your loved one and pat the back or shoulders."

Appetizer Hug

"It is the warm-up for the main event," said Dr. Caprio. "The woman should approach her man confidently, put both arms around his waist, hands clasped behind his back and gently rest her head on his chest.

"After holding him a few moments, she should then look deeply into his eyes and smile.

"The man on the other hand, can be a bit more aggressive with his appetizer hug. He should take his woman into his arms and hug her gently, all the time rubbing her back."

"Let's Play" Hug

"This is the obvious sexual approach," said Dr. Caprio. "It communicates deepest feelings."

The man sweeps his woman up into his arms and clings to her with passion and desire.

The woman places both arms around his waist and pulls her man to her. Then, when he responds, she rests her arms on his shoulders — and hugs him to her.

"Ex-Truck Driver Gets $21,108 a Month Doing What You Aren't"

By Neville B. Levin - Special Feature Writer

Orlando, FL. - "In only 6 months I took in a whopping $126,850 - and I can take any average person and show them exactly how to do it," declares Lawrence Tabak.

Tabak began a few years ago with humble beginnings as a truck driver. But the cash didn't start to roll in until he discovered this little known money making secret.

"Thanks to my system I'll double my pay, maybe even more."

Now, on a trial basis, Tabak has begun to train everyday people, just like himself, how to duplicate his new system.

Already the results have been astounding. For example, one person in St. Augustine wrote that they had made $8,500 in an unbelievable 11 days!

"I'm no smarter than you," he states, "only, I have discovered an amazing wealth system."

"Put my program into action," he says, "and you are admired driving your sparkling Mercedes, BMW, or Cadillac. You dazzle your friends with your new dream home. And people see you radiating like a champion."

"You can really be the kind of person that you always wanted to be."

And what's more," he adds, "to make an extra $30,000, my way, requires little effort!"

"Look, there's no magic wand, and poof . . . you're rich. It does take time and work. But it's worth it. In fact," he adds, "I only want people who are willing to put forth some effort to use it."

Now, you may not make as much as Tabak, but if you are a real "Go-Getter," you will make even more. And above all, the nice part is that you win the respect of your friends and family.

Tabak has offered to send further details to readers who want to learn his new wealth system. Simply send your name and address to:

"Tabak-INFO" Dept. MAS 30 8958 N. 427, Suite 6, Longwood, FL. 32750.

Sending 50¢ to cover postage, processing and handling is greatly appreciated, though not required. No one will call on you.

After pet spent six months in freezer . . .

FROZEN HAMSTER COMES BACK TO LIFE!

"IT'S A MIRACLE," says happy owner Paula Magnuson. Her pet hamster Sammy's alive and well, after being frozen solid in her freezer for six long months.

Creature kept in cold storage — because gal thought he was dead

Sammy the hamster was frozen solid for six long months but when owner Paula Magnuson thawed the critter out, it opened its little eyes and scampered back to its cage like nothing had ever happened!

"You could have easily knocked me over with a feather," said the 28-year-old woman from Denver, Colo. "I put Sammy in the freezer because I thought he was dead and couldn't bear to get rid of him.

"I don't know what made me decide to thaw him out after six months. I guess I was thinking that it wasn't right to deprive him of a funeral."

The amazing drama unfolded after Mrs. Magnuson found the little hamster on its back in a corner of its cage late last summer.

She checked for signs of life but couldn't find any. So she carefully wrapped the creature in paper and put the package in her freezer.

"I was really attached to Sammy and it was devastating to think that he was dead," said Mrs. Magnuson.

"That's why I put him in the freezer. And now I thank the Good Lord that I did.

"If I had flushed Sammy down the toilet or buried him, I never would have seen him again."

A veterinarian examined Sammy and declared him to be healthy, although he can't explain how the creature survived. "Hamsters have been known to survive extreme cold and even short-term freezing," said the doctor. "But six months in a freezer is something entirely different."

In an eerily similar but unrelated incident, a hamster named Bud survived a night in a freezer after Mary Ann Snoddy of Salem, Oreg., was told that the creature was dying and would pass on painlessly if she froze it.

"The next morning I opened the freezer door and flop, onto the floor fell the hamster," said the woman. "He sat up on his hind legs and looked at me like, 'Why did you do this to me?' "

New sewer plant plugged — with condoms!

Rude sex is clogging up a brand-new sewer plant in Windsor, Canada.

The threat of AIDS has caused thousands of men to use condoms for their sexual romps. Then they flush the used condom down the toilet.

"We've definitely got a condom crisis that is causing mammoth problems in our new sewage treatment plant, especially on weekends," By JACK ALEXANDER said a city spokesman. The discarded condoms caused backups at the Little River sewage plant that serves a third of Windsor and four adjacent communities.

They get caught on horizontal ultraviolet-light tubes used to disinfect the water. Ironically, the ultraviolet system, installed in December, is called — the Trojan 2000.

City bigwigs are considering two solutions to the problem.

They can install screens to catch the condoms at a cost of $250,000.

"Or we can try to change the after-sex habits of our male population," said a pollution control official. "I don't hold out much hope we can do that."

You're too old!

By SUSAN JIMISON
Staff writer

Elizabeth Layman got a nasty surprise when she turned 40, she says: Her career took a nosedive because she was considered too old!

She says because of her age she was bumped out of her job and offered a newer one with fewer responsibilities and less pay, and a sympathetic jury agreed with her.

They awarded the San Antonio, Tex., woman $9 million in her lawsuit against Xerox Corp.

"It really made me angry," said Mrs. Layman, now 46 and going to law school. "You're entitled to be treated fairly — even after the age of 40.

"I had done such great work for them and had done really well at Xerox.

"Then someone decided because of my birthday that everything had changed. I couldn't understand why anyone would do this."

The divorced mother of a teenage daughter, Mrs. Layman worked as an engineering specialist at Xerox's Dallas division and handled national and international business for the company.

But her rapid rise in the company came to a sudden halt in 1984, when Mrs. Layman turned 40, her attorney said in court. The hardworking woman was told her section would be closed down, but a few months later a new woman appeared on the job performing exactly the same duties Mrs. Layman had, he said.

"In 1985 she found out she'd been reduced in position," said the woman's attorney, Richard Ihde. "She lost a lot of perks — stock bonuses, things like that. She made a complaint and there was an investigation, but she was told by the president of Xerox that there was no discrimination in her case."

Mrs. Layman worked at the company until 1987, but was never promoted again. She was promised a job in California, sold her house and prepared to move — then found out the job was an entry-level position, she says. She declined the job and sued and after months of litigation, she won her suit.

"It was a shock and a relief when I won," she said. "It felt great."

HARDWORKING Elizabeth Layman was bumped from her job because of her age.

Wallet stolen in 1945 returned to owner!

By MARTHA ATKINS
Staff writer

A woman who had her wallet stolen in 1945 has finally gotten it back — 45 years later!

Virginia Broyles was working as a cashier in a drugstore when someone swiped the billfold out of her purse. At the time, she ran an ad in the Danville, Ky., newspaper hoping someone would return it but she had no luck until recently.

"That's when a passerby found the wallet lying in the street and turned it in at the Danville Police Station.

"I didn't know anything about it until I got a call from the police saying they thought they had something that belonged to me," said Mrs. Broyles.

"I told them I didn't know of anything that was gone. Detective Ed Aisman came out and handed me the billfold and I couldn't believe my eyes. I realized it was the wallet I'd lost in December 1945."

Det. Aisman was surprised, too, because he thought the wallet had been tossed out by someone who'd recently stolen it from someone's home.

Mrs. Broyles doesn't have any idea how the wallet came to be lying in the street still looking just like it did the day she lost it.

But she was overjoyed to have it back because her husband, W.G., had sent it to her while he was away in the Navy.

Inside she found her 1945 driver's license, a Social Security card and several photos. One is a picture of the Broyleses taken in 1943, when they were both in their 30s. W.G. is now 80, and Virginia is 76.

"I'm sure glad to have it back," said Mrs. Broyles. "I was most upset about having lost the pictures but now that I've got them back everything's fine."

GIANT HOROSCOPE

FOR WEEK OF
Mon., Mar. 5-Sun., Mar. 11

By Countess Sophia Sabak

ARIES
Mar. 21-Apr. 19

Perhaps you've been a little hard on yourself lately. You can't do everything by yourself. When a helping hand full of cash is offered, take it.

A wisecracking family member or friend may get you in trouble this week — or try to. Let the smart aleck mouth off but don't worry. No one takes the creep seriously.

Someone you know is crying out for help but is too ashamed or shy to say anything. Don't let them down or you'll be sorry.

TAURUS
Apr. 20-May 20

Sometimes you are too gentle and that's the danger you're presented with this week.

Don't be anyone's love patsy! Stand up for what you want in romance.

The health of loved ones may soon concern you. Resist the urge to give in. Everything's going to be O.K.

Luck and extra money are out there, and you're sure to get your share if you keep your eyes peeled for the opportunity that's all around you.

GEMINI
May 21-June 20

All signs now indicate that a lucky break may be coming your way in the very near future. Be alert so that you can take full advantage of your good fortune.

A little tendency toward laziness can be overcome at this time by concentrating on completing the task at hand. Don't allow yourself to get sidetracked.

Danger signs warn of possible love problems that can only be avoided by exercising extreme caution. But you'll be very happy in the future.

CANCER
June 21-July 22

Your luck will carry you through to success in every undertaking this week.

Just guard against being intolerant of the errors of others.

Generosity will be the key to winning over those who are envious of your achievements, but don't overdo it.

You will find your days hectic but evenings will be free for quiet times with loved ones.

Plans made this week bring the financial results you desire.

LEO
July 23-Aug. 22

Your sense of loyalty may prove to be a problem when a trusted friend attempts to take advantage of you.

Patience is the key to smoothing out a rocky romantic relationship. Understanding is indicated at this time.

Be a sympathetic listener and remember that time is on your side.

All signs point toward sudden changes in long-standing money problems.

Roll with the punches and everything will work out.

VIRGO
Aug. 23-Sept. 22

Worries over money matters have dominated your thoughts and made you blue. Turn your attention to other matters.

A financial breakthrough in the near future is coming your way.

Your tendency to be too patient and content has put you in a romantic rut. Take that special one out for a surprise and loving night on the town.

Unexpected problems make Monday a stressful, tiring day, but the rest of the week will be wonderful.

LIBRA
Sept. 23-Oct. 22

Being aloof and rigid is not the best way to be this week. The things you want — love, money, happiness, security — could be detoured from your door.

Recognize your faults and overcome them.

You will be caught up in a weekend of excitement and adventure. Rest while you can.

Any significant money outlay should be avoided this week. Ditto long-term commitments of your time.

SCORPIO
Oct. 23-Nov. 21

A tip from an unlikely source may put you in a position to save a chunk of cash. Don't listen to negative friends or relatives. Make up your own mind.

You have a tendency to be a bit inconsistent in dealing with those you love. It's important that you make a special effort toward consistency this week.

Your cheerful personality may win friends that you may not be aware of this week. They will make your life more rewarding.

SAGITTARIUS
Nov. 22-Dec. 21

Close friends or family members may feel slighted by something you've said.

Before your valued relationships begin to suffer, find out what the trouble is and clear the air.

This is a good week to gamble, both financially and romantically.

You are naturally a lucky person — and now's the time to have a bit of a fling.

It's possible that you've been in a health slump but that's already beginning to change for the better.

CAPRICORN
Dec. 22-Jan. 19

Watch your tongue this week! You are in danger of offending someone in authority and it'll end up costing you money and respect. Offer opinions only when they're asked for — and then do it quietly.

You've been working too hard and your health may be beginning to suffer. Take things a little slower.

A small gamble could pay major dividends, but do your homework before you take the plunge.

Romance your love on the weekend.

If your birthday is this week . . .

You'll see vivid proof of how your friendly nature pays off after you extend a kindness to a total stranger.

Take this good fortune in stride and accept it as a reward for your good behavior toward people.

This will be a year for romance with an old friend. Allow yourself a chance to be alone together. From this interval you will gain new strength and security.

Stay away from smart alecks. They will only take your friendly attentiveness as encouragement, and could end up costing you money.

This is the year for good health.

AQUARIUS
Jan. 20-Feb. 18

Your manner gets you in dutch when your mate catches you bragging about how you are the brains in the house.

Lay low for a few weeks until your loved one cools off.

Thanks to your generosity, a friend in need gets out of a jam. You refuse any reward.

This is the right moment to break away from financial routine. Re-evaluate money partnerships and make sure you're on the winning end of any deals. Luck is with you!

PISCES
Feb. 19-Mar. 20

Your dazzling smile works wonders this week. A stunning member of the opposite sex can't keep his or her eyes off you.

Use your charm to accomplish something worthwhile and be careful that you don't break someone's heart.

Hold off on money matters if cash is a little tight.

You are naturally secretive, but this is a good time to share a nagging problem with a friend. They can help you more than you realize.

Bizarre new psoriasis cure:

FLESH EATING FISH!

IT TICKLES, but it works! Miracle fish chow down on ugly sores and dead skin from diseased victims' psoriasis-ravaged bodies.

By MARTHA ATKINS
Staff Writer

Sufferers of the heartbreaking skin disease psoriasis have new hope for a cure thanks to miracle "doctor" fish that chew the ugly sores and dead skin from their bodies!

Thousands of men, women and children are flocking to the tiny mountain town of Kangal in eastern Turkey to be healed of the dread disease.

There they bathe in the hot mineral springs that bubble out of the ground and form four separate pools teeming with the flesh-eating fish.

A visiting British doctor who stumbled on the spa while on vacation was astounded by the miracle fish. "It's an amazing sight," said Dr. David Warwick of Bristol. "Everyone we spoke to gave us the same answer, their condition had improved beyond recognition. And several people told us they'd been completely cured."

The locals have identified three different types of the carnivorous fish that measure between one and three inches. They've named them strikers, jabbers and lickers, and say they work in teams to restore the skin. One type opens the wound, a second cleans it and the third closes it. One woman who hadn't had much luck with the standard remedies of pills and ultraviolet treatment, was amazed at how successful the fish were in ridding her of the disease.

"It takes a bit of getting used to though," said Carol Ostranies of Preston, England, "because it tickles being nibbled at all day long."

Patients to the spa spend six to eight hours a day taking in the waters. And after a 21-day stay, their clear skin is living proof of the healing properties of the fish.

Most sufferers find relief with the help of the "doctor" fish but medical experts are baffled by it. They can find no explanation why the mottled pink patches should be healed by the amazing fish.

Millions of married women feel isolated, says expert

How to take loneliness out of your marriage

LONELINESS is not the fault of the husband but is a problem brought on by the stress of modern life, says expert.

If you're married and lonely, you've got company. Millions of American women complain they're tied to husbands who make them feel isolated, says a top expert — but the real fault is with themselves, not their partners!

By SUSAN JIMISON

"Loneliness within a relationship is not a relationship problem, it's a problem with yourself," says Dr. Dan Kiley, author of the new book Living Together, Feeling Alone, (Prentice Hall Press, $18.95). "You've lost touch with your inner voice. It's an intimacy problem with yourself, not your partner."

The Arizona therapist estimates 10 million married women suffer from loneliness in this country.

The women are often college-educated executives and professionals who are active in the community. They have such complaints as: "I feel isolated from him, even when he's in the room," "I can't turn to him when I feel bad," and "I feel left out."

What actually bothers them is loss of contact with themselves, Dr. Kiley says. A fast-paced, consumer-oriented life with many pressures and few values can lead people to lose touch with their real feelings. They develop unrealistic expectations about marriage and become upset when they find there's no quick fix for marital woes.

To cure their loneliness, these troubled women need to stop focusing all their unhappiness on their mates and gain a greater sense of power in their lives, Dr. Kiley says. Here are his step-by-step suggestions for how to do it:

- Communicate with your mate.
- Take time out for yourself. Meditate, take long walks. An important way to beat loneliness is to be alone now and then. You must know yourself first before you can connect with others.
- Avoid arguing with your mate.
- Challenge your own expectations about marriage. Do you believe woman should be submissive? That you should not get angry? That you should solve other people's problems before you tackle your own? Try to replace mistaken ideas with realistic expectations.
- Don't expect to be able to talk out all problems in your marriage. Every couple has conflicts.
- Trust your emotions. No matter what comes out of you — anger, tears, depression — emotionally it's a healing response.

WOODSMAN SAVES WOMAN FROM RAMPAGING FIEND — WITH HIS AX!

BRAVE woodcutter Al Pike, a 63-year-old former policeman, saved a rape victim's life when he grabbed his ax and took off after her cowardly attacker.

By JACK ALEXANDER
Staff writer

A burly woodsman charged after a cowardly punk with his ax and rescued a woman who had been kidnapped, raped and was about to be murdered.

"I knew what I had to do," said courageous ex-cop Al Pike, 63. "Another 30 seconds and she would've been dead. I'm certain of that."

Pike was hauling a tree behind his tractor in a woods near Paris, Ontario, Canada, when he saw a man get out of a parked car and pull up his pants.

"I was about 200 yards away when I saw a naked woman get out of the car. She was trying to put her coat on, but the guy knocked her to the ground," said Pike.

Pike thought he had disturbed a couple involved in a lovers' quarrel until the man knocked the woman down again and viciously kicked her four times in the face.

Pike, a 190-pounder who is 6-foot-2, grabbed his long-handled ax and headed toward the struggling couple.

"I saw him with a screwdriver raised above his head. He stabbed her four times, right in front of me," said Pike.

"He was trying to roll her over and give her a gut shot, I think. Then he looked up and saw me coming.

"I think he was getting pleasure out of kicking and stabbing her. When I saw the screwdriver I was looking at a murder in progress. I knew the way he had his arm raised with that screwdriver that he was going to kill her."

When the rapist saw Pike coming at him, he jumped in the car. Pike smashed the right rear window of the car with his ax as the punk roared away.

Pike took the woman to his farmhouse and called an ambulance. The victim suffered head injuries and four stab wounds.

MURDER suspect Peter Peters, 28

hands on that guy," said Pike. "I think maybe I could have done something with him."

The tough woodsman didn't know then that the creep he chased away was the object of a mammoth police manhunt. The suspect was wanted for a rampage of murder, rape and robbery.

Three days later, cops arrested Peter Peters, a 28-year-old janitor, and charged him with the rape and attempted murder of the woman.

Peters also was charged with two counts of murder, kidnapping and robbery during a savage crime spree across southern Ontario.

GIVE ME BACK MY

BRAVE mom Loretta Sparks holds her baby Justin.

By JACK ALEXANDER
Staff writer

Brave mom Loretta Sparks risked death to save her baby who was strapped in the front seat of her car when a punk tried to steal it.

"I didn't have time to be scared or even think," Loretta told The NEWS. "I had to get my baby. Nothing else mattered."

'I didn't even have time to be scared,' says hero housewife

The young mother's legs were horribly bruised and cut when she was thrown under the wheels of her car in front of a convenience store in Toledo, Ohio.

"I stopped to buy cigarettes. I was only going to be a second or two, so I left the keys in the ignition. My baby was asleep in front in a car seat," said Loretta.

She had just finished paying for the cigarettes when the clerk saw a man getting into her car.

The courageous mom ran outside, opened the passenger side door and tried to unhook her 3-month-old son from the car seat.

"Take my car but please let me get my baby," she pleaded. "Please, please, let me have my little boy." But the callous crook pulled out of the parking lot before the frantic mom could grab her baby.

"I was clinging to the door for dear life as he sped away from the store.

"I was screaming at him to stop the car, but he paid no attention," she said.

"My feet were dragging against the pavement as he drove about 50 to 75 feet and slammed on the brakes.

"The sudden stop threw me under the car. Then he backed up and ran over both my legs.

"He must have felt my body under the car because he got out and came over to me and said, 'I'm sorry,' and ran away," Loretta said.

Bleeding and bruised, the heroic mom crawled over to

Chinese docs cure homosexuals — with electric cattle prods!

In China, does figure all homosexuals are sick in the head. But a Beijing medical team says it's curing gays of their ghastly ailment — by jolting their genitals with cattle prods!

By JOE BERGER

"The electric prods can give them quite a shock, and they often cry out in pain," admits hard-nosed Dr. Deng Pih-Chen.

"But the pain is the price they must pay for their perversion, if they ever hope to lead decent, honorable lives.

"Once they are well, they come to us and hug us and thank us for what we have done for them."

Docs at the Dong Feng Road Clinic say they're putting sexual sickies back on the straight and narrow in two weeks flat — by zapping them silly every time they lust after their fellow man.

and put them in situations that are likely to produce erotic responses in homosexuals," Dr. Deng explained.

"And at the first sign that they're getting heated up, we administer the electrical prod to a very sensitive part of the body, giving them a jolt that cools their passion immediately.

"We do that over and over again, until they begin to associate the gay response to something very painful and unpleasant.

Dr. Deng Pih-Chen

long before their perverted reaction to other men is a thing of the past."

Most of the clinic's gay patients are brought in by cops who've caught them frolicking in public and ordered them to take the cure or go to jail.

Others are teenagers whose frantic parents dragged them in kicking and screaming.

"When these men come in, they are sick," Dr. Deng insists. "They are a disgrace to themselves, to their families and to Chinese society.

Crybaby killer wimps out on suicide threat

"I don't believe my life is someone else's for the taking," screamed James Upchurch, who had just been sentenced to die for brutally stabbing a man to death.

By SCOTTY PAUL

"I'll take my own life by fasting . . . I'm not a cow to be fattened for slaughter. I'm innocent and I'd like to die innocent," he shouted.

But the blustering killer was all mouth and no action when it came to starving himself to death.

His "fast" in the Elizabeth City, N.C., jail lasted only one day.

"I guess he didn't want to go to the gas chamber hungry," said a deputy. "He's eating good . . . like there's no tomorrow."

Upchurch, 21, was found guilty in the 1988 murder of Leith Von Stein, who was beaten with a baseball bat and stabbed several times.

Also convicted in the case were Gerald Henderson and Chris Pritchard, who attended University with Upchurch at the time of the slaying.

Pritchard hired his pals to kill his mom, Bonnie Von Stein, and her husband Leith, so that he would inherit their $10 million estate.

The two hit men drove to Washington, N.C., to kill the couple. Upchurch was to do the dirty work while Henderson drove the car. Pritchard stayed back in Elizabeth City so he would have an alibi.

But Mrs. Von Stein lived through the ordeal, though she was viciously beaten and stabbed. Henderson eventually confessed and implicated Pritchard. They both plea-bargained with prosecutors and testified against Upchurch.

"Thank God, he wasn't hurt. He had slept through the entire ordeal," she said. A man identified by cops as Thomas L. Hutchins, 19, turned himself in to police two days later.

He was charged with aggravated robbery and abduction. "I don't consider myself a hero. Any other caring mother would have done what I did," Loretta said. "I never should have left the keys in the ignition . . . but I was only going to be a second or two. That's all a car thief needs.

"I don't think I'll ever get over the experience," said Loretta. "He could have driven away with my baby and I would have never seen him again."

'Pack rat' pooch brings home a human hand!

"WHEN I told my husband what Missy brought home, he thought I was crazy,"

By DICK DONOVAN
Staff writer

Squeamish Barbara Tate almost freaked out when she took a closer look at the old glove her "pack rat" puppy Missy was playing with in the yard — and discovered it was a severed human hand!

But Missy's playful curiosity helped the authorities uncover the grisly murder of a drifter that probably would never have come to light.

"Missy is a pack rat," 26-year-old Barbara told The NEWS.

Barbara made her horrifying discovery when she walked across her yard outside Conroe, Tex.

"I saw what I thought was a glove Missy had taken from my husband's coat," she explained.

"I flipped it over with the toe of my shoe. And when it turned over, I knew what it was.

"I went into the house and told my husband Les what I had found and he wouldn't believe me. He thought I was crazy." Barbara finally succeeded in getting Les to take a look. And when he saw that it was indeed a severed human hand, he called the sheriff's office.

Deputies investigated and finally found a decomposing head in a shallow grave about 500 yards from the Tate home.

A few days later an anonymous caller gave homicide detectives a tip that led to the arrest of two men who, a sheriff's spokesman said, have admitted killing the unidentified man.

"They said they met him in a bar," Deputy Bob Morrison said, "and later killed him for his money. They said they decided to cut off his hands and head and bury them in different locations to conceal his identity. We found the victim's torso about a mile from where the head and hands were buried."

Morrison identified the two Montgomery County men as Nicholas F. Borka, 22, and Steven J. Eribarne, 24, and charged them with murder.
